Larry's Leaf Raking

"leaf the raking to us!"

Larry is 20 years old. He has owned and operated Larry's Leaf Raking since his second year in high school. It has gone from being an after-school and part-time job to a full-time, highly profitable business. The business has grown to the point where Larry now has 50 different accounts and employs three full-time and eight part-time employees. Larry is concerned that the business is getting too big for him to manage. He is also concerned about being liable for the losses the business might suffer some day. What type of business organization should Larry consider? Explain.